ANSWERS REVEALED!

1 Which of these was NOT shown?

ANSWER

A The kite was not shown.

✓ EXPLANATION (3 SENTENCES)

I saw a stack of books, a teddy bear, and a donut. There was no kite in the image. So, option A is the correct answer.

2 Which image has the same color as the original?

ANSWER

B Option B (red) has the same color as the original red.

✓ EXPLANATION (3 SENTENCES)

The original backpack was red. Among the options, only option B is red. So, option B is the correct answer.

3 Which item was in the middle (4th position)?

ANSWER

A The globe was in the middle (4th position).

✓ EXPLANATION (3 SENTENCES)

From left to right, the items were globe, donut, soccer ball, and rainbow. The 4th position is the globe. So, option A is correct.

DEEP WATER

Introduction

- The excerpt “Deep Water” is a part of an autobiography titled “Of Men and Mountains” by William Douglas in 1947.
- It reveals how as a young boy William Douglas nearly drowned in a swimming pool.
- In this essay he talks about his fear of water and thereafter, how he finally overcame it.

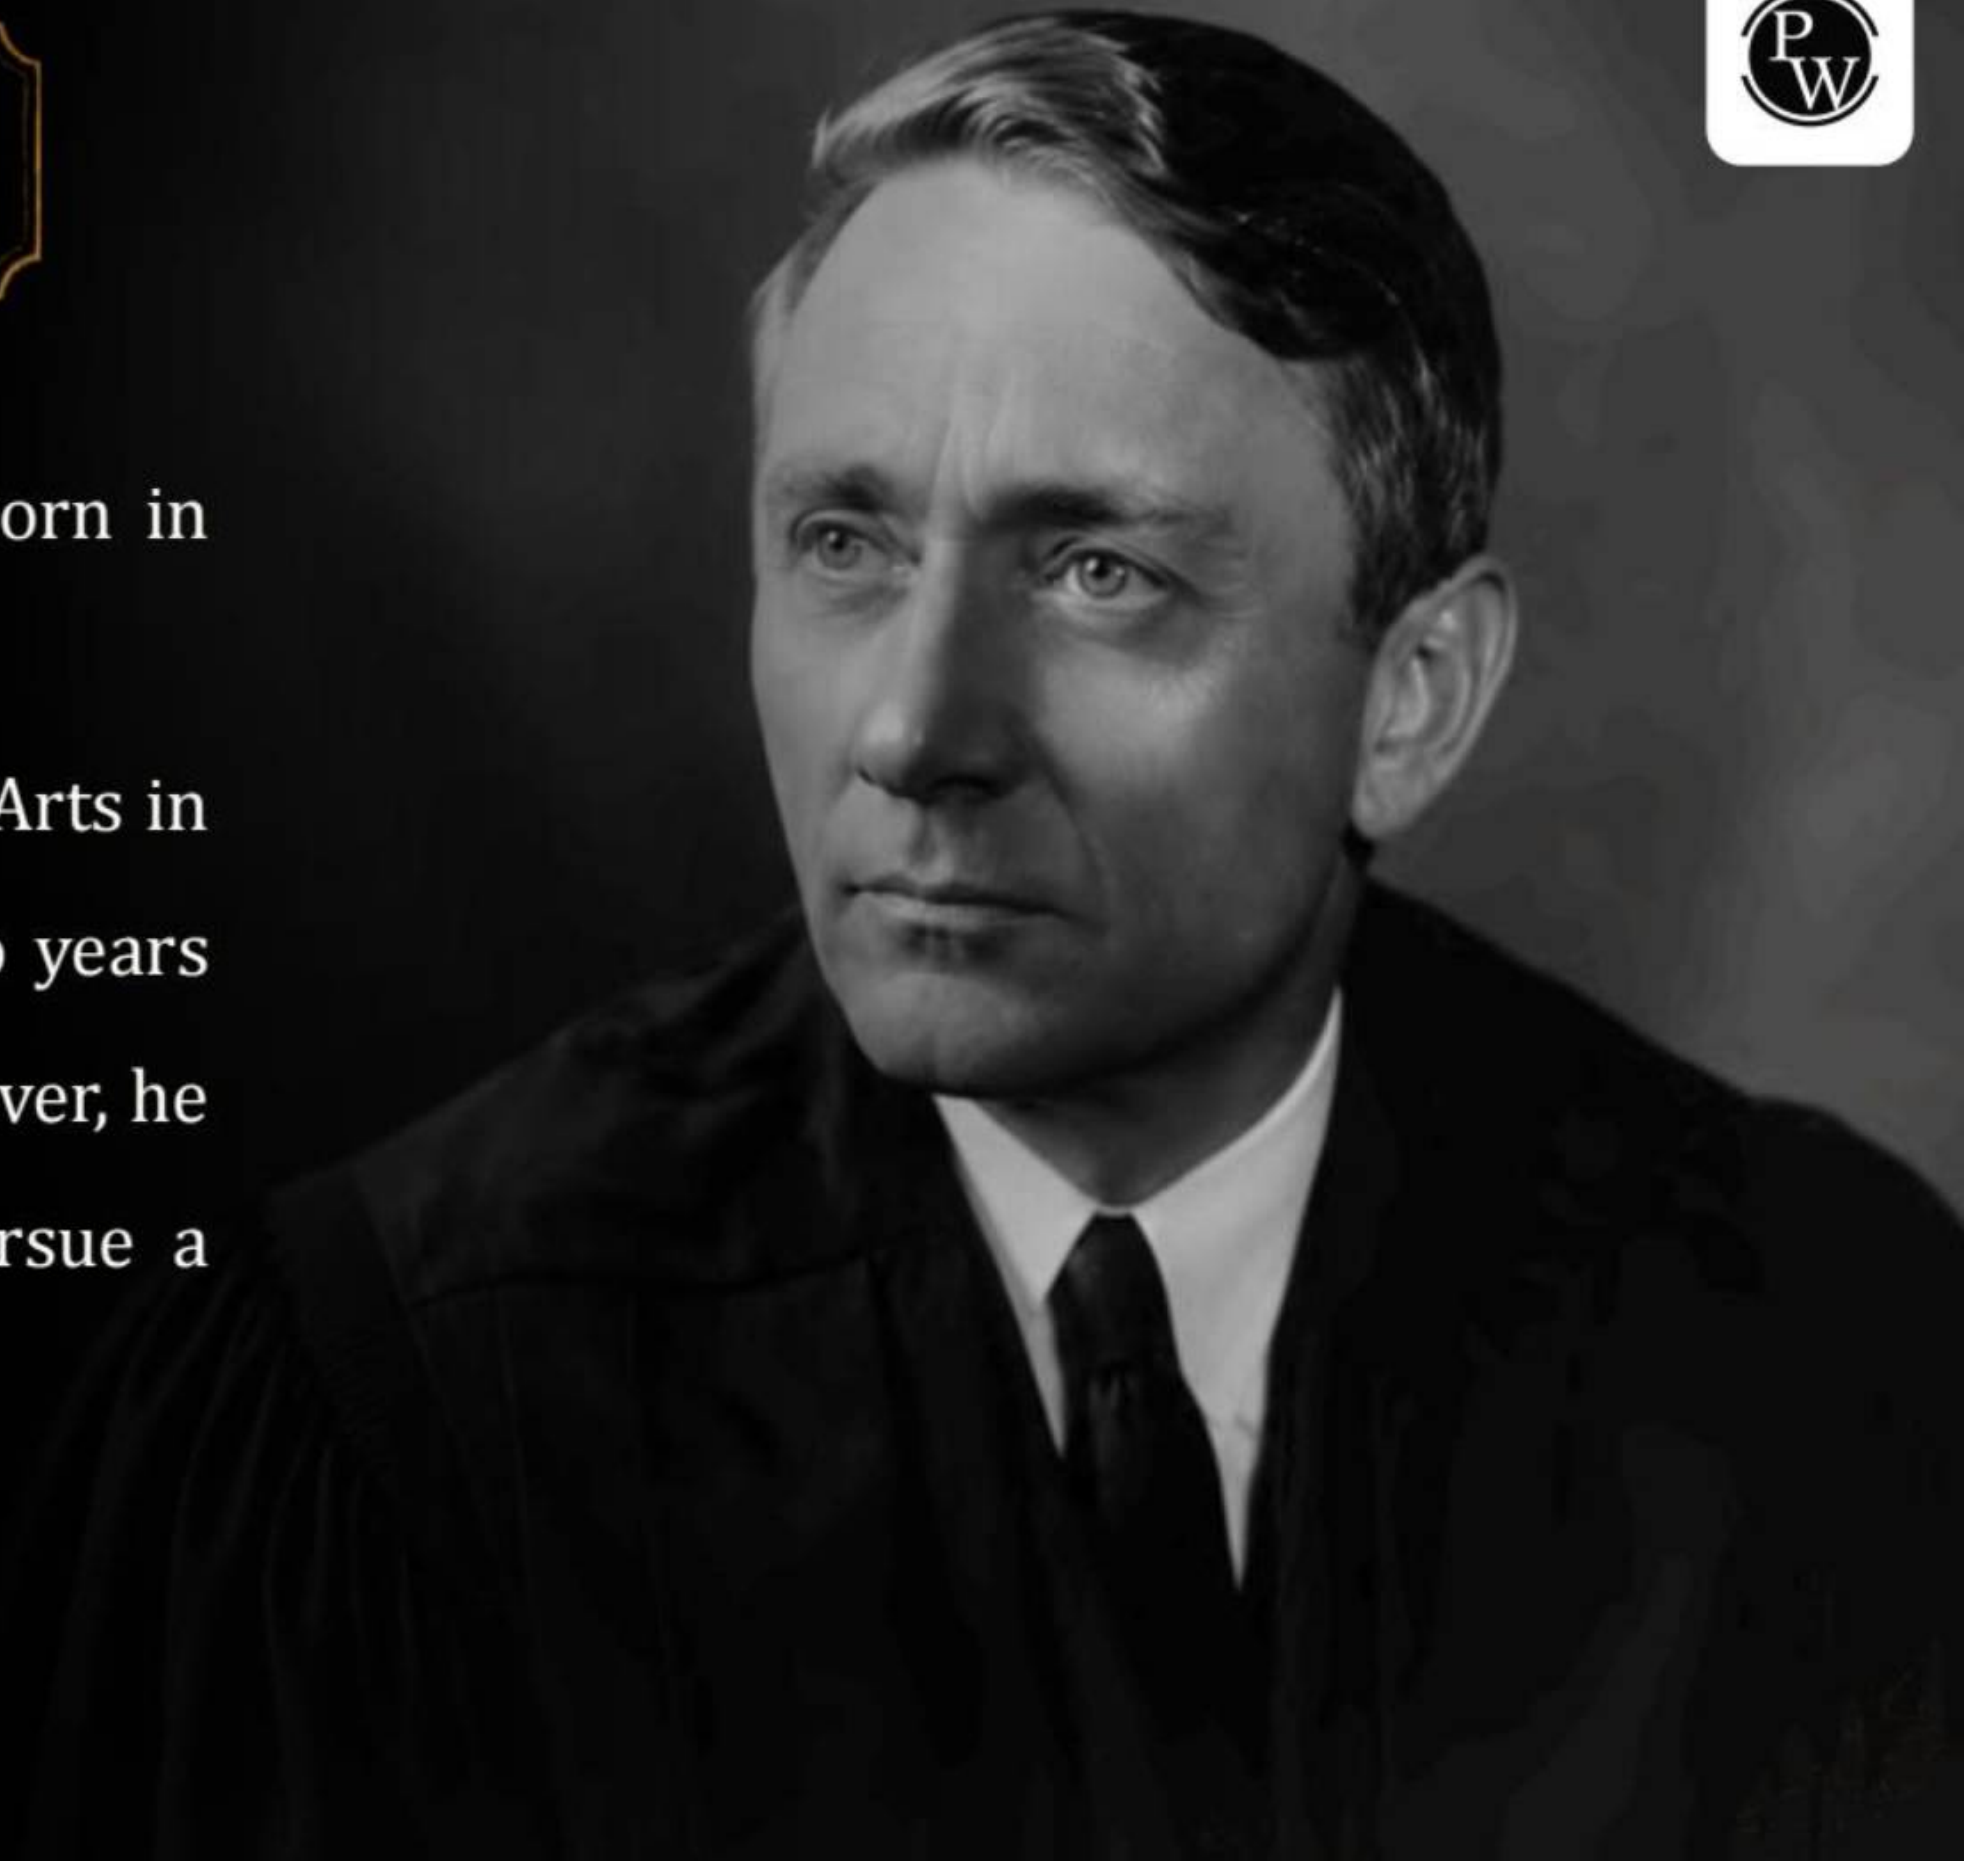

- It is a first-person account of the event that gives the readers a feeling that the episode is being reconstructed in front of their eyes.

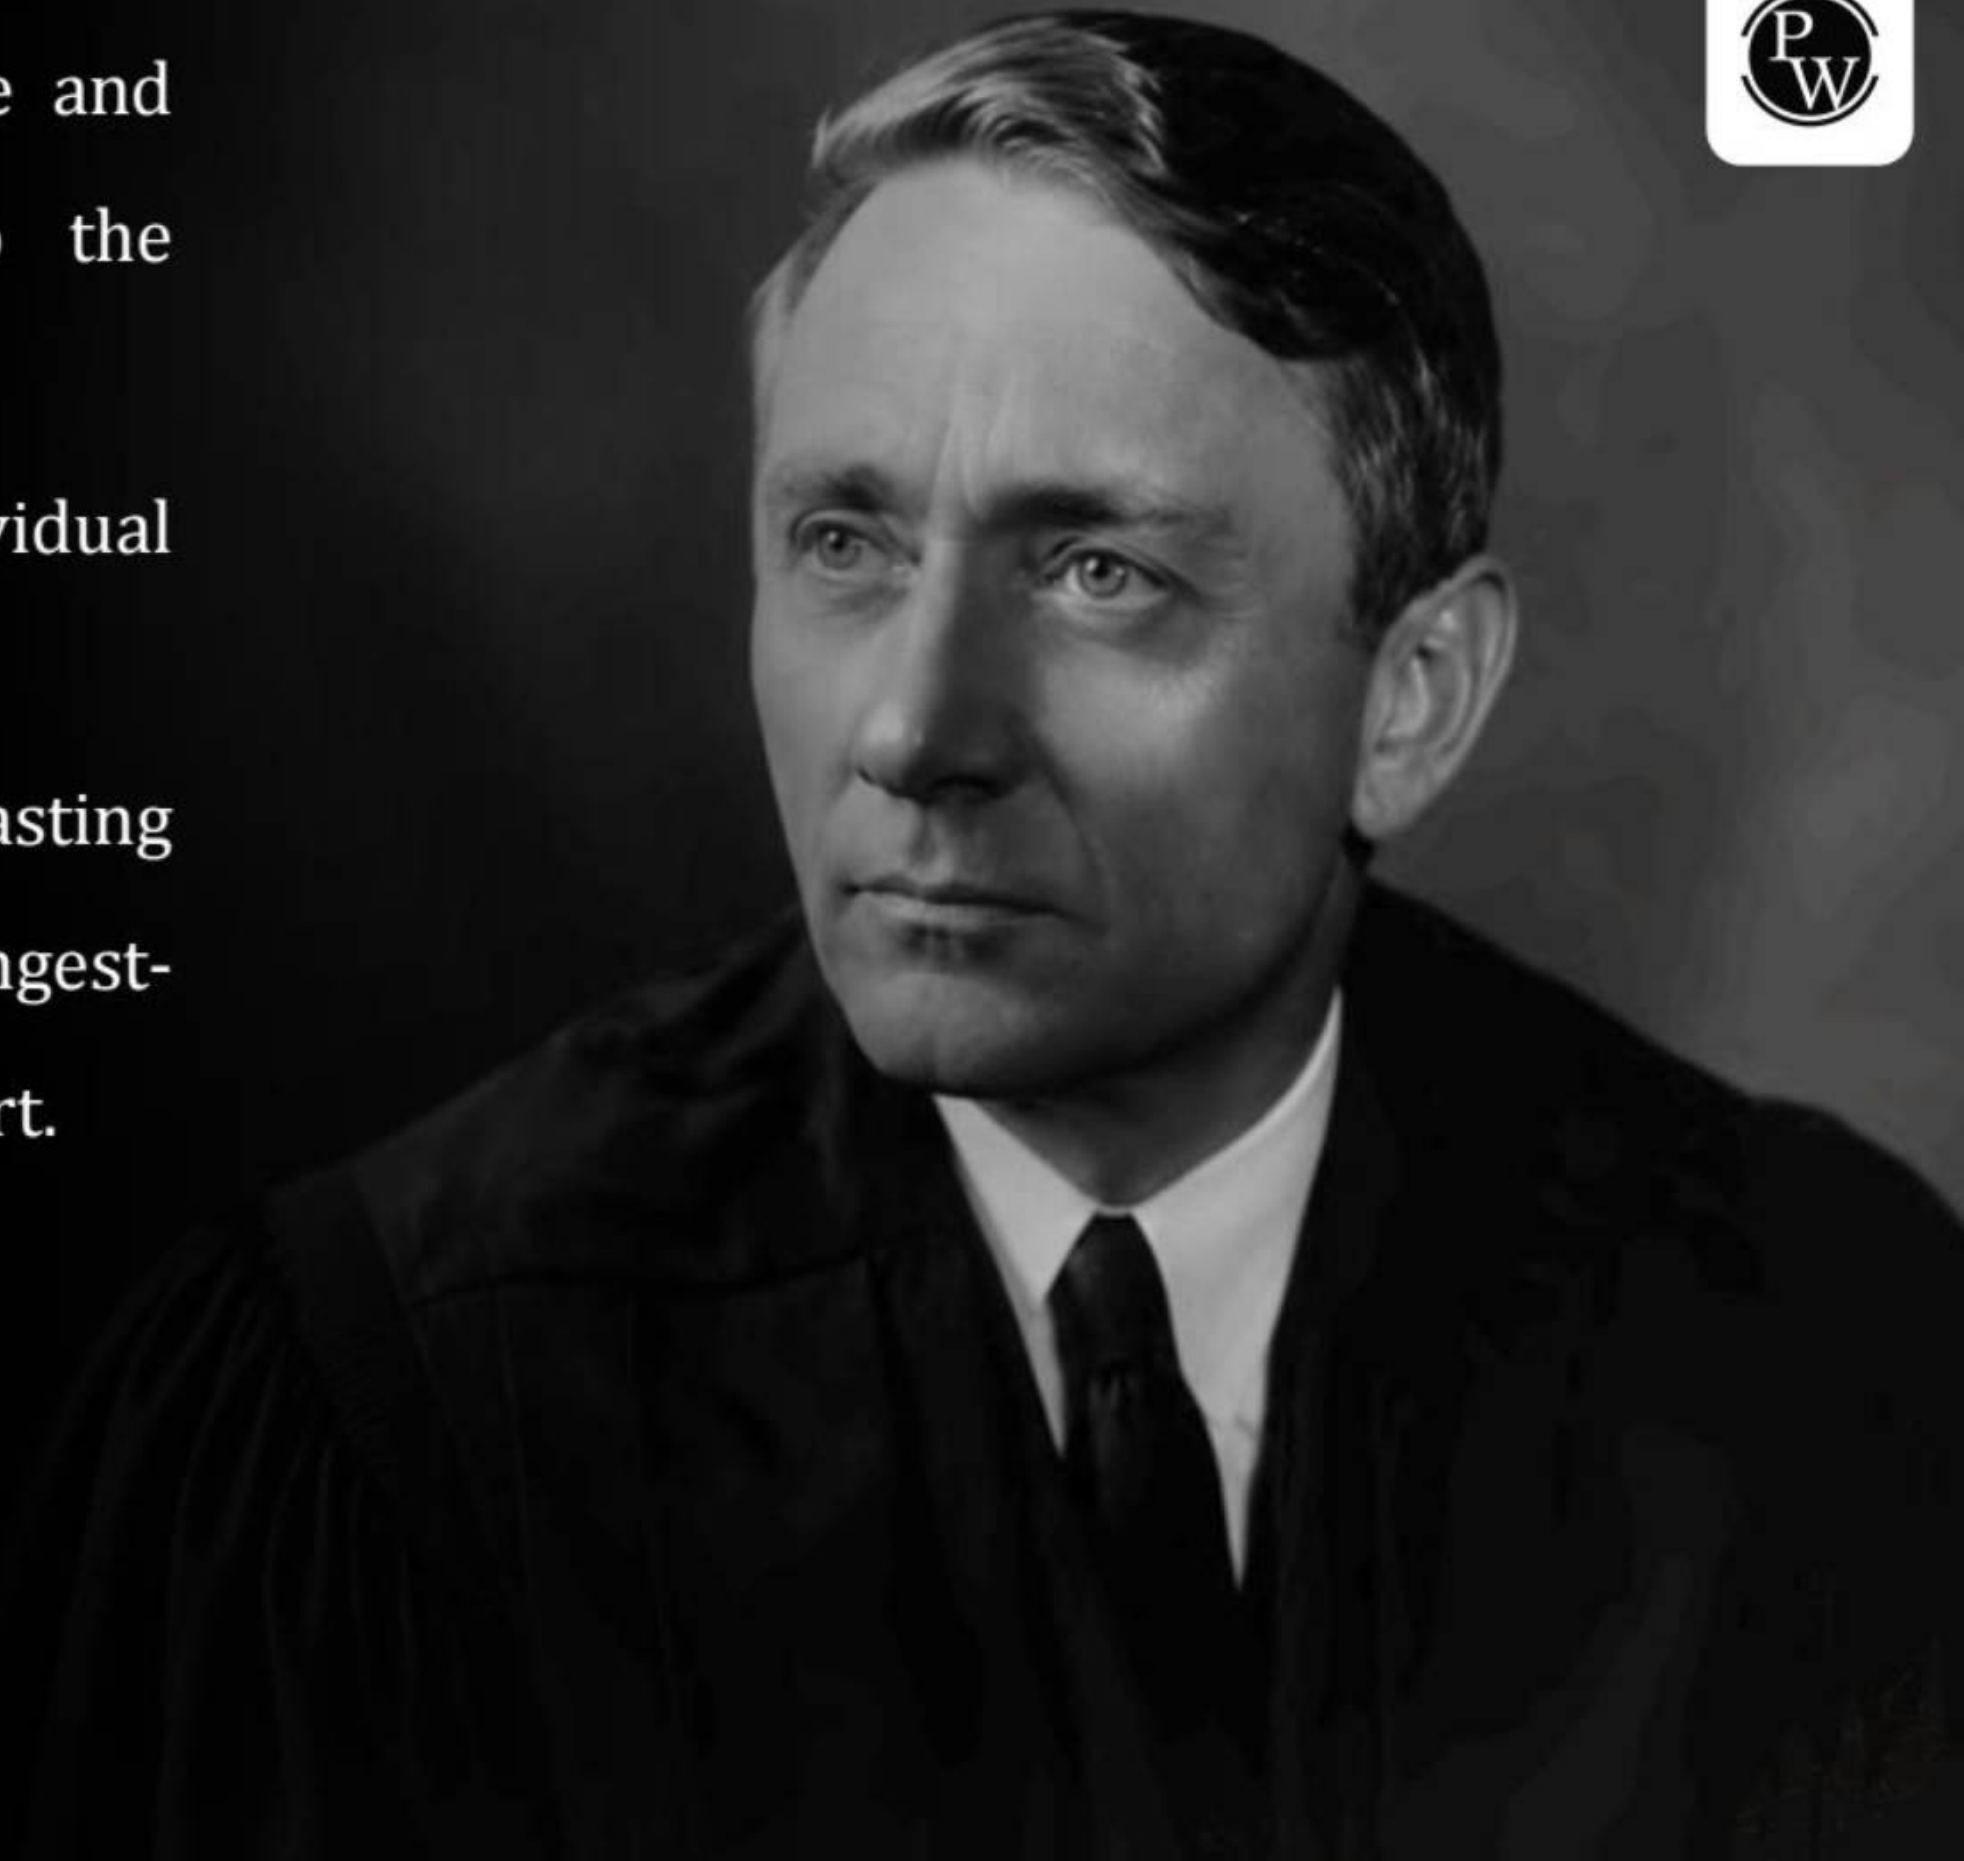

Author

- William Douglas (1898-1980) was born in Maine, Minnesota.
- After graduating with a Bachelors of Arts in English and Economics, he spent two years teaching high school in Yakima. However, he got tired of this and decided to pursue a legal career.

- He met Franklin D. Roosevelt at Yale and became an adviser and friend to the President.
- Douglas was a leading advocate of individual rights.
- He retired in 1975 with a term lasting thirty-six years and remains the longest-serving Justice in the history of the court.

It had happened when I was ten or eleven years old. I had decided to learn to swim. There was a pool at the Y.M.C.A. in Yakima that offered exactly the opportunity. The Yakima River was (Dangerous, खतरनाक) treacherous. Mother (Reminded, स्मरण कराया) continually warned against it and kept fresh (Sinking, डूबना) in my mind the details of each drowning in the river. But the Y.M.C.A. pool was safe.

It was only two or three feet deep at (Not deep, उथला)

the shallow end; and while it was nine feet deep at the other, the drop was (Slow, धीरे-धीरे) gradual. I got a pair of water wings and went to the pool. I hated to walk naked

(Thin, दुबली-पतली)
into it and show my skinny legs. But I

(Supressed, दबाया)
subdued my pride and did it.

From the beginning, however, I had an (Dislike, अरुचि)
aversion to the water when I was in it.

This started when I was three or four years old, and father took me to the beach in California. He and I stood together in (Waves, लहरें) (Hold tightly, चिपका)

the surf. I hung on to him, yet the waves (Strike down, गिराया) knocked me down and swept over me. I

(Submerged, डुबोया)
was buried in water. My breath was gone.

(Scared, डरा हुआ)
I was frightened. Father laughed, (Fear, भय)
but there was terror in my heart at (Powerful, प्रबल)
the overpowering force of the waves.

My introduction to the Y.M.C.A. swimming (To bring back, ताज़ा किया) (Unhappy, अप्रिय) pool revived unpleasant memories and (Awakened, जगाया) stirred childish fears. But in a little while I gathered confidence. I paddled with my new water wings, watching the other boys and (Copying, नकल करना)
trying to learn by aping them.

I did this two or three times on different (Comfortable, सहज) days and was just beginning to feel at ease in the water when the (Bad happening, दुर्घटना) misadventure happened.

I went to the pool when no one else was there. The place was quiet. The water (Motionless, स्थिर) was still, and the tiled bottom was as white and clean as a bathtub. I was (Nervous, भयभीत)
timid about going in alone, so I sat on the side of the pool to wait for others.

Why did the author's mother warn him about the Yakima River?

- A) Because it was too shallow for swimming.
- ☒ B) Because the Yakima River was treacherous and had a history of drownings.
- C) Because it was the author's preferred swimming spot.
- D) Because it was located far from their home.

What caused the narrator's initial fear of water? ☆ ☆

- A) A near-drowning experience in a pool
- B) Seeing a friend drown
- ✓ C) Being knocked down and swept over by waves at the beach
- D) Watching a scary movie about the ocean

What caused the author to begin feeling at ease in the water at the Y.M.C.A. swimming pool?

- ☒ A) Watching other boys and learning from them
- B) Wearing water wings
- C) Having a gradual introduction to deeper water
- D) The absence of other people at the pool

I had not been there long when in (Stout, दबंग) came a big bruiser of a boy, (Perhaps, शायद) probably eighteen years old. He had thick hair on his chest. He was a beautiful (Sample, नमूना) physical specimen, with legs and arms that showed (Bulging, उभरी हुई) rippling muscles. He (Shouted, चिल्लाया) yelled, "Hi, Skinny! How'd you like to
(To put someone's head underwater forcefully) be ducked?"

With that he picked me up and (Threw, फेंका) tossed me into the deep end. I landed in a sitting position, (Gulped, निगला) (Immediately, तुरंत) swallowed water, and went at once to the bottom. I was frightened, but (Terrified, बुरी तरह भयभीत)

not yet frightened out of my wits.

On the way down I planned: When my feet hit the bottom,

I would make a big jump,
come to the surface, lie (Swim, तैरना)
flat on it, and paddle to the edge of the pool.

It seemed a long way down. Those nine feet were more like ninety, and before I touched bottom my lungs were ready to (Explode, फटना) burst. But when my feet hit bottom, I (Gathered, जुटाया) (Power, ताकत) summoned all my strength and made what (Jump, छलांग) I thought was a great spring upwards. I (Reach, उभरना) imagined I would bob to the surface like a (Stopper, डार्ट) cork. Instead, I came up slowly.

I opened my eyes and saw nothing but water — water that had a dirty yellow (Shade, झलक) (Frightened, घबराया) tinge to it. I grew panicky. I reached up as if to grab a rope and my hands (Grabbed, पकड़ा) clutched only at water. I was (Unable to breath, दम घुटना) suffocating. I tried to yell but no sound came out. Then my eyes and nose came out of the water — but not my mouth.

(Struggled, छटपटाया)

I flailed at the surface of the water,

(Gasped, दम घुटा) swallowed and choked. I tried to bring my legs up, but they hung as (Heavy loads, भारी बोझ)

(Stiff, अकड़ा हुआ)

dead weights, paralysed and rigid. A great force was pulling me under. I

~~(Grabbed, पकड़ा)~~ चिल्लाया screamed, but only the water heard me. I had started on the long journey back to the bottom of the pool.

(Hit, मारा)

I struck at the water as I went down,

(Spending, खर्च करना)

expending my strength as one in a (Bad dream, दुःस्वप्न)

(Too powerful, अजेय)

nightmare fights an irresistible force. I had lost all my breath. My lungs ached;

(Hurt, दर्द हुआ)

(Unsteady, चक्कराया)

my head throbbed. I was getting dizzy.

(A series of beats in the rhythmic way)

But I remembered the strategy — I would spring from the bottom of the pool and come like a cork to the surface.

(Swim, तैरना)

I would lie flat on the water, strike
(Swim, तैरना)
out with my arms, and thrash with my legs. Then I would get to the edge of the pool and be safe.

I went down, down, endlessly. I opened my eyes. Nothing but water with a yellow glow — dark water (Across, आर-पार)
that one could not see through.

(Complete, पूर्ण) (Extreme, भयंकर)
And then sheer, stark terror seized me, (To take control, जकड़ लिया) terror that knows no understanding, terror that knows no control, terror that no one can understand who has (Screaming, चीखना)
not experienced it. I was shrieking under water. I was paralyzed under (Hard, अकड़ा हुआ) (Unmoving, जड़) water — stiff, rigid with fear. Even the (Stopped, रुक जाना)
screams in my throat were frozen.

Only my heart, and the ^(Thumping, धड़कना) ~~pounding~~ in my head, said that I was still alive.

And then in the ^(Middle, बीच) ~~midst~~ of the terror came a touch of reason. I must remember to jump when I hit the bottom. At last, I felt the tiles under me. My toes reached out as if to grab them. I jumped with everything I had.

But the jump made no difference. The water was still around me. I looked for ropes, ladders, water wings. Nothing but water. A mass of yellow water held me. Stark terror took an even deeper hold on me, like a great charge of electricity. I shook and trembled with fright. My arms wouldn't move.

My legs wouldn't move. I tried to call for help, to call for mother.
Nothing happened.

And then, strangely, there was (Very bad , भयानक) light. I was coming out of the awful yellow water. At least my eyes were. My nose was almost out too.

Then I started down a third time. I sucked for air and got water. The yellowish light was going out.

(Stopped, रुक गया)
Then all effort ceased. I relaxed. Even my

(Weak, ढीला)
legs felt limp; and a blackness swept over

(Removed, मिटा दिया)
my brain. It wiped out fear; it wiped out terror. There was no more panic. It was quiet and peaceful. Nothing to be afraid of.

This is nice... to be (Sleepy, उनींदा) drowsy... to go to sleep... no need to jump... too tired to jump... it's nice to be carried (Softly, धीरे से) gently...
(Drift, तैरना) to float along in space... (Soft, स्नेहपूर्ण) tender arms around me... tender arms like Mother's... now I must go to sleep...
(The state in which a person doesn't realise what's happening)
I crossed to oblivion, and the curtain of life fell.
